Debate Squad Competes In Kansas Speech Meet

by Craig W. Christensen
Daily Universe Writer

Best debate tournament in the nation. This is the theme of the Southwestern Speech Meet at Winfield, Kansas, this Friday. Brigham Young University's debate team will compete and Saturday.

The annual tournament held at Kansas' Southwestern College is expected to attract some 150 debate teams from all over the South and Midwest.

Competition in debate, oratory, interpretive, extemporaneous, and a newly created salesmanship division will be the main events.

BYU will mark the first time BYU has entered the Southwestern; however, one squad member, George Mangan, a student from Kansas State Teacher's College and a member of the Heber J. Grant Oratorical Contest, is a veteran of the annual confab. Mangan has received the Kansas tournament numerous times in the past.

Dr. Vasco Tanner . . . Professor in Biological Science College.

No Tickets in Advance For Basketball Games

Basketball tickets will be available to students at the game on a first come first served basis.

According to the ticket office, students must present activity cards to enter West door and obtain tickets. No advance tickets will be given out.

Doors will open at 6 p.m. Thursday. Freshman game begins at 6 p.m.

Entomology Group Elects Dr. Tanner in Recent Vote

Dr. Vasco M. Tanner, chairman of Brigham Young University Entomology and Zoology department, is now a member of the Royal Entomological Society of London, according to a recent European election.

Dr. Tanner's election is the result of a trip which he and Mrs. Tanner took last summer to gather information for his forthcoming book on the weevils of the Western United States.

During the trip, Dr. Tanner inspected the weevil collection at the museum of Brussels, and spent three weeks with Sir Guy Marshall, a world authority, on entomology, in the British Museum of Natural History.

Sir Guy presented Dr. Tanner with specimens of 125 rare species to be used in the BYU collection.

Dr. Tanner is also a member of the American Entomological Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Elder Longden Tells Students Of Physical, Spiritual 'Vision'

by Richard Kramer
Daily Universe Feature Editor
"There is no need to compromise our standards, young people," stated John Longden, Assistant to the Council of Twelve Apostles, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in Tuesday morning's devotional.

In his message Elder Longden expressed his gratitude not only for his physical vision, "to see the glorious mountains, and wonderful valleys, trees, and flowers which God is the creator of," but also his "spiritual vision."

"We should never forget the source of all our blessings," he further stated.

Longden noted that there are two powers in the world today. The power of Jesus Christ and the power of Satan or the adversary and "no man can serve two masters."

The apostle of Satan is to take away the kingdom of God and "he is anxious to deceive anyone who is willing to serve God, the only master." We should show our appreciation by serving him.

According to Longden we all have the opportunity to teach people the true and better way of life, and we can say "thou shalt not tempt me, Satan, a follower of Jesus Christ."

Yule Spirit to 'Vibrate' At Thursday Assembly

Visions of Christmas will dance in students' eyes for a few minutes during Thursday's assembly when Alysone and Delta Phi present "I'll Be Home For Christmas."

Christmas songs of the Alysone, Delta Phi combined choir may bring visions of three feet of snow to Canadians, or escape from Utah's cold for the Arizonian. If so, this is the desired effect for the quarters final assembly.

THE CHRISTMAS spirit from foreign countries will also add to the assembly, Lena Davis, Honolulu, Hawaii will express the spirit of Christmas in a Hawaiian Christmas dance. A Mexican Christmas will be portrayed through music from Mexico. Dances from other countries will complete the cosmopolitan effect.

Co-chairmen of the assembly are Donna Schipper and Stan Miller. Others helping with production are Carroll Crose, business manager; Joan Lambert secretary; Janet Nims, production; Betty Davis and Al Gundersen, publicity; music: Doreen Moody and Sherm Gibbs; dance: Sherri Stevens, and Monte Morris, costumes. Carole Stevens and Norman LeBaron; scenery: Les Beckstead, and Dennis Mollan; and programs, Carol Sue Vandergift and Ben Holman.

This important new work by a foremost Gospel scholar contains a wealth of new and otherwise unavailable information on many gospel subjects. It fills a great need for authoritative material on questions so often debated in Church groups: Is God progressing? What was the nature of our pre-existent life? What is the real story of the creation? What of the age of the earth? Can the theories of organic evolution be harmonized with the gospel? And dozens of other vital subjects.

Kids Won't Listen; Teacher Kills Self

TOKYO, (AP)—A 41-year-old Japanese school teacher committed suicide because his six-year-old pupils refused to obey him. Hiroshi Matsumoto, a primary school teacher from Komoro City west of Tokyo, hanged himself at his home yesterday after telling his pupils in a note that he was upset because they never listened to him.

School authorities said his pupils often walked out of his classroom when he scolded them.

AEC Presents Research Grant For Work Continuation at B

Dr. H. Tracy Hall, director of research at Brigham Young University, Tuesday announced a grant of $8,917 has been received from the Atomic Energy Commission for continuation of a research project, "Time Variation of Thermodynamic Parameters of a Gas in the Region of a Shock Front."

The project is part of an AEC program to learn ways and means of heating gases since thermo-nuclear reaction will depend on getting heavy hydrogen gas heated to high temperatures.

It is hoped, that in this way, controlled nuclear fusion can be accomplished.

Directing research is Dr. Richard W. Hales, associate professor of physics. He will be assisted by two graduate students. MORE THAN $400,000 has been given by BYU for this project over a 4 period, according to Dr. E. John Eastmond, of physics, directed the for three years, and this is now under the direction of Dr. Hales.

Johnston Heads Pass Stealers

Quarterback Carroll Johnston, one of three graduating starters on Brigham Young University's football team, led the nation in two departments this year, it was announced by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Johnston, voted most outstanding player by his teammates at a recent banquet, tied for national pass interception leadership and topped the nation in most punts. Johnston's seven pass thefts gave him a tie with Bud Toole of North Texas State in that department, while his 50 punts led the nation in boots.

BYU Among Favorites In National Cage Preview

(Editor's Note): The following is the second of two articles by International News Service on national basketball scene.

The East, which has lost many of its top players to military service from other regions, will have most of its hoop power concentrated in Philadelphia, Temple and St. Joseph's will battle with a rejuvenated La Salle for city and regional supremacy.

Yale led by the polished Johnny Lee, figures to beat out Dartmouth for Ivy League honors. Connecticut is most certainly will repeat in the Yankee Conference.

Wide Open

The Metropolitan New York competition is wide open with Fordham, NYU and St. Peter's possibly the strongest entries. Niagara and St. Bonaventure look to be top dogs in upstate New York. Holy Cross and Duquesne come again will be leading independents.

The annual Big Ten dogfight shapes up as a three-way struggle among last year's co-champions, Michigan State and Indiana, and Ohio State. Each team has its top star back.

The Hoosiers have Archie Dees and eight other lettermen. The Spartans have jumping Johnny Green and the Buckeyes have tall and talented Frank Howard.

Irish Strong

Notre Dame will lead the Independents. The Irish, with one star in Tom Hawkins, could make a serious bid for top national honors by finding a replacement for the departed John Smith.

Miami of Ohio figures to top the Mid-Atlantic Conference again.

Although the Big Seven Conference has been enlarged to the Big Eight, Chamberlain still dominates the loop. However, the big man has lost four starters from his supporting cast and the word is out that Kansas State may take the title.

The Wildcats have 6-9 Jack Parr and 6-8 Bob Boozor. Iowa State, with Don Medsker, also figures to be in the running. Bradley shapes up as the best in the Missouri Valley Conference but defending titlist St. Louis might surprise and win again.

SMU Stripped

With Southern Methodist stripped of two-thirds of its 56-57 squad, the Southwestern race is wide open. Rice, which has loads of height, is the leading candidate to replace the Mustangs with Texas Christian also well up in the struggle.

The Skyline Conference will be another battle between Brigham Young and Utah. The Utes are favored to take the title from BYU. Idaho State should repeat effortlessly in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

The best in the Far West will be San Francisco again but the Dons will get an argument declared ineligible to play until January. Injuries to Dick Sawyer and Russ Jones followed, leaving the tawny Cats virtually centerless.

SINCE THEN Gary Miles has been working in the center spot but Watts said that Sawyer may be ready for the game against the Cyclones from Iowa State. The BYU mentor also said that the entire starting lineup may be different than the one that started on the big floor of Edmondson Pavilion Friday Saturday in Seattle.

Starting Cougar tins Washington consisted of Wilkes and Russ Peguards; forwards John C. and John Nicoll, and Gary Miles.

WATTS SAYS He may be the lineup in order to give player on his young team equal chance to "strut his feathers." Although Watts did whom the new lineup would include, he did hint there would be some new faces starting. Cougars take to the floor today.

WATTS WAS pleased with showing of his charges in training, where Cougars took first game 45-43 on a p free throw by Wilkes as final buzzer had sounded.

"We made some mistakes," Watts said, "but try hard to correct them."

Watts singled out players John Gustin and John Nicoll, their rebounding. The Cougars played Saturday.
